

age
→

concentration

→

The age and concentration coming from each box (groundwater, stream, and precipitation) will be a function of inputs from terrestrial primary production, residence time, decay rate, and sorption in each box.

Lake DOC will then be a function of the relative weight of those inputs and lake residence time.